

George Washington Scrapper

The old tintype photo shown upper right has been handed down through the Arch Scrapper family. Although it does not appear to be Archibald, it could be one of his brothers. Notice the striking resemblance to the old portrait of George as well as a slight likeness to the lower right photo which has been identified as one of George's sons, Henry H. or Martin M. Scrapper.

Arch Scrapper - Cherokee Delegate to Washington

